[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JULY 17.

WASHINGTON, July 16th.—President Johnson's health is restored, and he is again transacting a large amount of business daily.

The trial of Miss Harris, who shot a clerk in the treasury building, will probably be concluded on Tuesday. But little doubt is entertained of her speedy acquittal whenever the case is given to the jury.

Affray among Soldiers at Charleston.

NEW YORK, July 1[illegible].—The Charleston Courier of July 10th says: On Saturday evening a small squad of Zouaves had been ordered on duty at the market. One of them while patroling came into collision with a party consisting of [illegible] a number of the Twenty-first United States troops [illegible] Massachusetts [illegible] colored soldiers. The Zouaves sent for assistance, when the squad came up, and afterwards the company on police duty arrived, while the market was cleared. In the melee which occurred previous to the arrival of the company, the colored soldiers fired a volley among the crowd, killing a well known and respectable colored man named James Ring, and badly wounding in the head Corporal Liberty of the Zouaves, and severely wounding two other colored men. In the fight stones, bricks, &c. were liberally used. The Zouaves, after the volley, made a charge, dispersing the colored troops.

South American News.

The U. S. double-ender Suwanee, from New York via the Straits of Magellan, arrived at Panama on the 12th of July, and left for the Mexican coast on the 21st.

The U. S. steamer Wateree arrived at Panama from Guayaquil on the 22d of July.

Three earthquakes had been felt at Panama on the 14th of July.

Mr. Tuler, an engineer from New York, arrived at the Isthmus on the Ocean Queen, en route for Bogota, for the purpose of laying down a telegraph line from that city to Nare on Magdalene.

On the capture of the Peruvian ships of war by the rebels and the death of Admiral Panizo, a mutiny broke out on board the Amazonas, the flag ship blockading the port of Arica, resulting in the death of Admiral Panizo and other officers, and the capture of the ship by the mutineers. The Amazonas afterwards proceeded to Pisco, where the ship of war America, lately brought from Europe, was at anchor, and signalized to the Captain to come on board, which he did, and was immediately made prisoner. The America was then ordered to surrender, which was done, the crew yielding without the least resistance. A small steamer (the Tumbes), which was cruising off Islay, is also supposed to have been captured. The Government have now only the America and Chalaco that are available as vessels of war, and the famous iron-clads that were to sink the Spanish fleet, which, probably, may be used in guarding the Chincha Islands, but it is doubtful whether they are fit for service. Appearances indicate that the rebels are getting the upper hand of the Government, and we look for further important news by the next mail. On the 5th, a fight took place about six miles from Lima, between 12,000 revolutionists and 6,000 Government troops, in which the former were defeated, losing one hundred men and twenty-five officers captured, besides the killed.

Foreign.

In the House of Commons, July 3d, Mr. Hunt said that the evidence taken before the Committee of this house on the Leeds' Bank Officers Court discloses that a great facility exists for obtaining public appointments by covert means; that such evidence, also taken before the House of Lords, in the case of Leonard Edmonds, and which has been laid before this house, shows a laxity of practice and want of caution on the part of the Lord Chancellor in sanctioning the grant of retiring pensions to public officers over whose heads grave charges are impending, and in filling up the vacancies made by the retirement of such officers, whereby great encouragement has been given to corrupt practices, and that such laxity and want of caution, even in the absence of any improper motive, are in the opinion of this house highly reprehensible and calculated to throw discredit on the administration of the high officers of State.

The Lord Advocate contended that there was nothing in the case to warrant the severe censure which had been passed upon the Lord Chancellor, and moved an amendment to the effect that the House agreed with the report of the committee, but thought a check should be put by law on the granting of pensions to persons holding legal offices.

Mr. Hennessy contended that this did not touch the case which was embraced in Mr. Hunt's motion.

Mr. Bouverie had given notice of an amendment which he could not now move. If, however, the original motion was negatived, he should move his amendment on that of the Lord Advocate. He had no confidence in the Lord Chancellor.

Mr. Hunt's motion was negatived, and Mr. Bouverie proposed his amendment, Lord Palmerston observing that the House had negatived any charges of corruption against the Lord Chancellor, and recommended and moved that the negative be adjourned till Tuesday.

Mr. D'Israeli opposed this motion, which was negatived upon a division by 177 to 163.

The Lord Advocate's motion having been negatived, Mr. Bouverie motioned his amendment as a substantive motion, which was agreed to without a division, amid loud cheering.

The Prince of Wales sat in the gallery during the discussion.

Resignation of the Lord Chancellor.

The Lord Chancellor tendered his resignation, which has been accepted by the Queen.

The Chancellor retains office until the prorogation.

The London Times says the discredit of a Lord Chancellor is a reproach to the Nation at large. The office represents to the popular intelligence all that is most elevated in dignity and power. The first officer of State and President of the House of Lords, the keeper of the Queen's conscience, the head of the judicial system of the country, the nominator of Judges great and small, the largest disposer of Church patronage, is a man raised so incomparably above his fellows, that no failing of his can be unimportant, and to prove him a delinquent is to brand the country through one of its most conspicuous representatives. The matter of the debate is that a grave vote of censure has been passed on the late Lord Chancellor. The amendment of Mr. Bouverie, which except on one point hardly differed from that of Mr. Hunt, was carried without a division, and the most exalted person in the Government is reproved by a vote originating with one of its own supporters.

Sonora and "Duke Gwin."

The New York Times publishes an extract from the Diario del Imperio, the official organ of the Mexican Government, published in the capital, dated June 20th, which, after quoting some of the statements relative to the cession of Sonora and France and the appointment of Gwin, says: The Emperor has not in the least endangered the Province of Sonora, but will remain faithful to the oath taken when he ascended the throne at Miramar, and will preserve and protect the entire of the national treaty with all the inflexibility of his will, nothing in the support and patriotism of his subjects.

Dr. Gwin has obtained from his Majesty none of the powers or titles which have been attributed to him. He has no connection with the Government in fact. We understand that he very [illegible] are unknown to the members of the Administration. His presence in Mexico has no significance whatever. [illegible] the [illegible] of the Empire are [illegible] all the [illegible] our Monarch with the perfidious design of making malcontents within the kingdom and enemies without, they should be hurled back at their author.

The London Times, having alluded to the recent discussions in the French Corps Legislatif, [illegible] the French Minister to justify [illegible] of the Imperial Government in this [illegible] was at the pains of repudiating, as a calumny, the assertion that France had received a recompense for her intervention in the shape of a lien upon the province of Sonora. We do not see why the Emperor Maximilian should not have offered such a remuneration to his patron. His own predecessor, Juarez, offered the very same territory to President Lincoln for [illegible] pounds sterling, and the French have spent at least four times this sum in their attempt to regenerate the country.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1865

Party

In one of his treatises which is devoted to the discussion of the philosophy of politics and [illegible] political parties, Burke remarks: "When bad men combine, the good must associate; else they will fall one by one, an unpitied sacrifice in a contemptible struggle."

A proper conception of this principle and an appreciation of its truth caused those whose interests were in the perpetuation of our Government and the preservation of national integrity to stand closely by each other in the day of danger. And if they would only fully realize that the peril is not yet wholly past, but that the dangers which still assail the country are now merely presenting themselves in a new form, there would be no relaxation of vigilance and no abatement of energetic purpose on the part of those who have given so much to sustain the cause of country, freedom and humanity.

"Party," says the same master we have quoted, "is a body of men united for promoting by their joint endeavors the national interest, upon some particular principle in which they are all agreed." They who propose to sustain the Government in the future as they have done in the past are not reduced to the strait of hunting for a principle upon which they may act in concert. The strongest motive that it is possible to present, is already before them. To the question "how may the national interest best be promoted?" the ready reply is, "by adhering to the determination to preserve the nation itself." It is not a cause that we want, for we have a cause with which no other is fit to be compared. It is not a perplexing question of expediency or policy that we now have to decide, for the issue is as simple as it has ever been. The question is, shall loyal and trustworthy men continue to administer the Government, or shall it sometime fall into the patricidal hands of those who once betrayed it, and who would take the first opportunity to do it again?

It is clearly to be seen that all the vicious elements of our political society are going to combine again for the purpose of retrieving, if possible, what their perfidy formerly caused them to lose. The loyal and better classes can have no defence against them unless they hereafter associate for that purpose as they have done heretofore. The party organization which has enabled loyalty to triumph over covert disaffection and open treason will, of course, be maintained. An adherence to an association of this kind is a very different thing from partyism in its grossest sense. The safety, security and advancement of national interests are its objects. The work which the Union party has before it may not be so severe as its past struggles have been, but it is a work which will require steady patience, constant vigilance and untiring activity. Without party, the desultory efforts of individuals would avail nothing. Loyal men will preserve their party organization, realizing that this is the only way to conserve the common good.

A Coincidence of Opinion.—Some time ago the Abolitionists of the old school and the violent "peace" men or Copperheads of the North, hit upon a scheme in which they could all agree. They had been around the whole circle of politics, when they suddenly found themselves in each other's company and agreeing harmoniously in at least one respect, namely, universal forgiveness to all who had been engaged in the rebellion. To this idea both parties still pertinaciously adhere. Many other subjects are discussed for a time and then suffered to pass by. Not so, however, with this notion or theory of pardon. Its advocates are instant in their work of pressing it upon the people and the Government. They do not for a moment cease from their arduous labors in the cause of those who have committed crime and who, had they been victorious, would have erected gibbets from one end of the country to the other, on some of which a portion of their present excusers would now be hanging. It is but fair to say, however, that those who in principles and politics were formerly so far asunder, are not now actuated by the same motives when they demand that crime shall not be punished. Men whose political views once differed so widely as those of Gerritt Smith and James Brooks have ever done, cannot now be supposed to agree in all things, and if they chance to concur in any, we are at once entitled to take it for granted that their motives in the premises are not at all similar. Mr Greeley and others want to pardon everybody because as they conceive, capital punishment in every case is entirely wrong; Charles O'Conor and Ben. Wood desire to save the rebels because as they insist, the men who tried to break up this Government did a meritorious thing—an act which deserves to be rewarded rather than punished.

Portions of a speech which Gerritt Smith delivered not long since, the Copperhead papers have actually condescended to publish. Not only so but with these excerpts for texts, they give us hebdomadal homilies on charity and magnanimity, introducing by way of interlude a comparison between the cases of the two rebels, (diis tres congregantur); George Washington and Jefferson Davis. Mr Gerritt Smith inquires "Would you have had your Washington and Franklin and their noble associates punished for treason in case the American revolution had failed?" His Copperhead auditors at once begin to quote Mr Smith as good authority since he but practically agrees with them that the rebellion was a laudable undertaking. The American cannot be found who will not claim that the rebellion of our Revolutionary fathers was justifiable. The slave holder's rebellion was equally so, if we can reconcile it to our consciences to violate history and truth by putting both these revolutionary attempts on the same moral grounds. Gerritt Smith will argue that the mother country was in the wrong when she warred on the colonies; how then, if he thinks the two rebellions were morally alike, can he justify his course in having urged our Government to quell the late insurrection?

Again Mr. Smith utters the following, which is widely quoted among the Copperheads who in one thing at least, have learned to admire him:

"There will be other civil wars begun in the interests of freedom all over the earth and will America set the precedent of trying and executing the vanquished as traitors?"

In these words, the justice and righteousness of the rebel cause are fully admitted. Was the Southern rebellion "begun in the interests of freedom?" The rebels themselves confessed that their object was to perpetuate human slavery. The loyal men of the country hold that the rebellion was in direct opposition to the spirit of liberty, that it was in violation of our laws and therefore a crime. Hence this argument for the condonation of leading rebels falls to the ground. We do not dignify those who have been foiled in their treasonable attempts by calling them by the honorable name of vanquished foes; they are simply traitors and are to be dealt with as such. It was time long ago to have discarded those vicious ideas which set great criminals above the laws and require that the punishment of others whose guilt might be pardoned without serious detriment to the true principles of justice.

A Sensitive Fellow.—He of the Argus says that he would blush for his birthright of national honor to believe that considerable communities at the South had connived at the starvation of Federal prisoners. How keen that Confederate sense of Confederate "national honor" is! to be sure.

[DISPATCHES TO THE [illegible]]

DATES TO JULY [illegible].

Salt Lake, August 12.—The following is from a Denver paper of the 28th of July:

Rebels to be Tried.

New York, July 27.—The [illegible] says: The trial of Capt. Henry Wirz, late commander of the Andersonville prison, [illegible] the U. S. Court will be held at Norfolk [illegible] when the [illegible] and then [illegible] It is said [illegible] that these cases will not be prosecuted, [illegible] that the President will [illegible] the leading rebels who have been active participants in the war, [illegible] by putting them on a long probation.

Jeff Davis, Joe Johnston to be Pardoned.

New York, July 28.—The [illegible] says that Jeff Davis' health is much impaired. Gen. Joe. Johnston has applied for pardon, which will probably be granted. It is said that he did all in his power to bring the rebellion to a close long before it became evident that it was in a hopeless condition.

Contumacious Alexandrians. News from Alabama.

New York, July 27.—The [illegible]'s Washington correspondent says: The Mayor and Magistrates of Alexandria, Va., boldly declare their determination to adhere to the old State laws. They say that sooner than receive the testimony of a negro in their courts they will resign their respective offices.

The Herald's New Orleans correspondent says: The first district of Alabama is at present infested by a desperate band of guerrillas, who have so far defied all the efforts of the national troops, with the assistance of citizens, to capture them. They not only plunder the rural districts but have on several occasions, entered Franklin and other towns and robbed the stores.

The Herald's special says: The municipal election at Fredericksburg last week resulted in the entire success of one of the most bitter and tyrannical secessionists. The election in Virginia affords little encouragement to hope for an early settlement of the difficulties which the suppression of the armed rebellion has left to be adjusted. Whenever opportunity offers, the citizens of that State manifest a disposition to retain or place in power those who are most obnoxious for their complicity in the rebellion.

It is understood that the guerrilla, Mosby, intends to run as a candidate for Congress.

During the progress recently in the District Court at New Orleans of proceedings for the confiscation of Slidell's estate, claims for nearly $100,000 advanced him on mortgage were presented by Paris banking houses. Judge Duvall decided that at the time the advances were made Slidell was a notorious enemy of the United States, and his property therefore belonged under the confiscation laws to the Government, and that the claims could not be allowed.

It is understood that John Minor Botts will soon issue an address to the people of Virginia urging them to vote for negro suffrage as the only hope of the State for its readmission into the Union on terms of equality with the other States.

Naval Affairs.

New York, July 21.—The Navy Department has ordered the reduction of the Mississippi squadron to five vessels. The ordnance and material will be collected at the new naval ordnance depot.

At Jefferson Barracks a large number of enlisted men will at once be discharged from the squadron.

Admiral Bradford sailed from Hampton Roads to take command of the Atlantic squadron, with orders to reduce it to ten vessels.

The Government has forwarded instructions to the Commander of the Department of Virginia to reduce the volunteer cavalry under his command to two regiments. A similar order has been sent to the Commanders of the Middle and North Carolina Departments, directing them to discharge with the exception of one, all the volunteer cavalry regiments attached to their respective commands.

Rebels Joining Maximilian.

New York, July 24th.—The Tribune's special says that a private letter from Matamoras states that a large number of rebel officers and men lately belonging to the commands of Dick Taylor and Kirby Smith, are joining the forces of Maximilian. This action seems to be induced by the high gold bounties offered by the Imperial Government.

Mexican News.

New York, July 28th.—The Tribune's special says semi-official Mexican news states that two imperial cavalry regiments had deserted to Ortega and that he was daily offered the services of large numbers of Mexican officers, coming from points in possession of the French. It is further stated that Maximilian has contracted with foreign speculators for the introduction of a large number of negroes who will be held in bondage for several years.

The Revolution in Hayti.

New York, July 29.—Advices from Hayti received by way of Nassau state that the revolutionary war in that republic is still going on. The rebels profess themselves willing to be buried under the fortifications in their towns rather than be any longer governed by President Geffrard.

Mutinous Conduct of the Twenty-Fifth New York Regiment.

New York, July 24.—The Twenty Fifth New York regiment was removed a few days since to Morris Island for taking part in the disturbances in this city. They have exhibited a mutinous spirit since their removal. Gen. Gillmore sent orders demanding the colors of the Twenty Fifth; their Colonel refused to deliver them and he was consequently placed under arrest. The colors were then demanded from the second officer in command, who also refused. Gen. Hatch explained to him that the Colonel was placed under arrest simply for disobedience. He then promised to deliver the colors, but found only the staffs of a number of colors, which were delivered. He then determined to disarm the whole regiment. Other regiments were ordered up and the guns were charged with grape and canister and were turned upon the mutineers. Orders were given to fire in case of any resistance. Seeing all further resistance useless, the regiment stacked arms and were marched under guard to Fort Hunter.

Provost Marshal's Office Closed.

New York, July 21.—The [illegible]'s Washington special says: The Provost Marshal's Office will be closed August 1st. The report that the reward for the capture of Booth has been handed over to [illegible] Baker is untrue.

Illness of Gov. Brough.

Cincinnati, July 21.—Governor Brough passed a sleepless night. He is now no better to-day, but his condition is considered critical.

Difficulties between Unionists and Rebels in Tennessee.

A serious difficulty occurred at a point at Rocky Springs, [illegible] county, Tennessee, on the 8th inst. between returned Union and Confederate soldiers, resulting in the death of three of the number and the serious wounding of seven others.

Claims for Prize Money.

New York, July 28.—The [illegible]'s special says that during June over two thousand claims for prize money were filed at the Fourth Auditor's office and nearly three million dollars distributed. A large amount still remains.

The Troops on the Plains.

New York, July 29.—Maj. Gen. Dodge has been assigned to the command of all the United States forces serving in Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Montana and that portion of Utah lying west and south of the Missouri river.

Fort Laramie, July 27.—One of the Powder River columns is on its way to join the forces at Platte River Bridge which is moving on the rear of the Indians and holding them in check until reinforcements arrive, when another fight will take place beyond doubt. All the troops intended for the Indian expedition would have been in the field long ago had it not been for the rascality of contractors failing to deliver supplies according to the terms of their contracts.

General Items.

Washington, July [illegible].—The rebel General Harris and Professor McCulloch arrived here last Monday, and are behind the bars at the arsenal.

It is asserted that the legal limit of three hundred millions of the National Bank circulation is nearly reached, and therefore the creation of but comparatively few additional institutions will be authorized. The entire number will probably reach sixteen hundred.

Baltimore, July [illegible].—John W. McCue, a rebel guerrilla, tried in this city by a military commission on the charge of murder and the violation of the laws of war, has been found guilty and sentenced to be imprisoned at hard labor during his life.

From Crescent City. Additional Information from the Wreck.

Jacksonville, August 1.—The following is from a correspondence received by [illegible]:

There has nobody dead or alive been saved from the ill-fated Brother Jonathan, except the first boat load that came ashore as noticed in the San Francisco papers of the 2d and [illegible] inst., and no part of the wreck was seen until about three days ago. One of the ship's boats came ashore two miles south of this place, but to-day a good deal of the wreck is coming ashore. Notice to Blasters.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY the undersigned at Oregon City until 12 o'clock M. Tuesday, the 15th day of August, 1865, for blasting and clearing out the rocks between Oregon City and Canemah, so as to make a depth of three feet of water at the lowest stage of the river, and fifty feet wide, said channel to be as near straight and on a direct line as may be with the main shore. The work to be completed by the 15th day of October next. Bond and approved security will be required of the contractor.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Bids to work upon the basin and canal are also wanted.

SINGULAR INCIDENT.—The San Francisco [illegible] August [illegible] relates a singular incident [illegible] with the [illegible] family of Mr Charles W. Pine [illegible] the father of Mrs. B. [illegible] wife of Capt. N. [illegible] Brooks [illegible] bark [illegible]. When Mrs. Brooks and [illegible] sister left the ranch [illegible] at Napa, for San Francisco, for the purpose of taking [illegible] to Portland, little Charlie, the [illegible] of the children, [illegible] three years of age, was left behind. He was kept [illegible] in ignorance of his mother's [illegible] departure for California, and made to believe that she was [illegible]. [illegible] to San Francisco [illegible] Charlie, being still at the ranch [illegible] his mother's whereabouts [illegible] with a paroxysm of grief [illegible] told his grandmother [illegible] just seen "Ma and Aunt Mary [illegible]" In vain Mrs. Pine [illegible] and during the whole afternoon [illegible] that the family were fearful [illegible]. A few days afterwards came the [illegible] loss of the Brother Jonathan, with nearly all on board [illegible] the day and hour exactly correspond[ing] with the singular [illegible] of little Charlie. [illegible] mention this as having [illegible] modern metaphysical theories [illegible] supernatural causes. It may [illegible] the child's, and the harm [illegible] the facts [illegible] wreck and the incident at the Napa ranch [illegible] We leave others to decide.

THE LAST OF THE STEAMER COL. WRIGHT.—The steamer Col. Wright is now being torn to pieces and divested of her [illegible] history. The last trip made by her was when under command of Capt. Stump a few [illegible] the [illegible] was attempted to take her above the rapids of Snake river to Farewell Bend, to [illegible] the [illegible] toward the center of the continent from the Pacific. On that trip she was badly broken up [illegible] the pioneer boat on the upper Columbia having [illegible] excellent service, made plenty of money for her owners, and been farther into the heart of the [illegible] than any other steam [illegible] waters of the Snake than any other [illegible] to cut her down. The Col. Wright was built by R. R. Thompson, Esq., of [illegible] and Mr. L. W. Coe, if we mistake not, in 1858. She has been succeeded by a fleet of excellent steamers, capable [illegible] the trade and travel of the upper country [illegible] It should double [illegible] the next year [illegible] The Col. Wright was named in honor of the [illegible] of this military department, as [illegible] so that the work of tearing her to pieces [illegible] the day following the disaster [illegible] in which the much respected Brigadier General Wright found a watery grave.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—The lecture delivered in the [illegible] at the M. E. Church last night by Rev. Geo. B. Taylor, was well attended. The speaker dealt in sound truths, palpable facts [illegible] of the evils of the liquor traffic. He reviewed with [illegible] the prevailing custom of former times among certain of the ministry, who, holding that a drop [illegible] "would do no harm" were in the habit of [illegible] using the ardent, and showed that the works of nature [illegible] diametrically opposed to the [illegible] of liquor, and until the distilling process was devised by man the world was not influenced to the use of strong drink. Mr. Taylor is doing much for the cause of Temperance in O[regon] since his arrival in the State he has [illegible] sixteen divisions of the Independent Order of [illegible], one of which is in this city, and has now about [illegible] and fifty members.

[illegible] IN STAGE FARE.—The California Stage Company [illegible] carrying passengers hence to Portland [illegible] at reduced rates. The passage is now placed at $60, and the passenger has an opportunity to stay over three nights on the route—at Placerville, Yreka, and [illegible]ville. The time through is six days. The [illegible] have ample facilities for the accommodation of [illegible] and we observe that [illegible] the Brother Jonathan more people [illegible] to risk their necks on terra firma, and are taking the stage coach. Special Mail Agent Gaskill has made [illegible] arrangements with the California and Oregon Stage Company for the carrying of mails, which will continue until communication can be had with the Post Office Department.

DUST STORM.—We extract the following refreshing [illegible] from the San Francisco Alta: "For a week back we have hardly seen the sun, and [illegible] the moon [illegible] about three fourths grown [illegible] but two men in San Francisco who would make affidavit, if called upon, that they had seen her [illegible]. The air by day is rather inclined to be warm and still, and by night it is damp and windy, reversing the usual order of exercise. What is to be the result of all this [illegible] it be an earthquake of the first class, is more than we can say." What a lovely place to live! [illegible] of the first class is not to be obtained in [illegible]. The Bay [illegible] the Web-Foot [illegible].

CITY COUNCIL.—There was a meeting of the city Council [illegible] to take action on the matter of improving [illegible] street, from the south line of Morrison street to the north line of Pine street, with the Nicolson pavement. An [illegible] providing for the improvement was passed, and the [illegible] lties on streets and public property were [illegible] to contract for the construction of the same [illegible] providing for the construction of sewers in the [illegible] street crossings of Front from Oak to [illegible] and an ordinance authorizing the [illegible] streets and public property to contract [illegible] of the same, [illegible] when the Board [illegible] at 8 o'clock this evening.

[illegible]—Those of our citizens who returned [illegible] Saturday evening last report themselves [illegible] by the visit. Mr. W. [illegible] Leonard gives [illegible] during his stay at the [illegible] On Tuesday, August [illegible], the temperature was at the [illegible] 72°, while he was there. The average was from [illegible] to [illegible]. On the 10th 71° were indicated. The [illegible] at the Summer House are ample for all who may wish to visit the place. Captain [illegible] the [illegible] department, while Dan [illegible] of the establishment. They [illegible] a good [illegible].

[illegible]—Mr. John Lake was yesterday [illegible] fast riding. He has [illegible] horse. He was [illegible] at the time of making the heat which has so badly [illegible] No. 10, and is surprised that no drunken man has ever made as good time. There have been plenty [illegible] He is open now for a square race, believing he has the best horse that ever came to Portland as she [illegible] to beat the Ordinance except [illegible] in former years by auctioneer Rich [illegible].

[illegible]—Our friend Chauncy Ball of the [illegible] entered [illegible] matrimony. This [illegible] last. Being just [illegible] mood, we feel like condoling with [illegible] our thoughts take this kindly [illegible] when we remember the rich confection [illegible] sent the printers last night. It is [illegible] couple who know how to propi[tiate] [illegible] Our friend has our sympathies and [illegible] to his fate when we reflect that [illegible] after all [illegible] to gain.

[illegible]—The wharves of our city on Sunday [illegible] A number of new steamers [illegible] the New World, Cascade, John H. Couch, [illegible] and Rival, rested closely by the wall [illegible] wharf of the O. S. N. Company. At Couch's wharf [illegible] Nevada, bark Jane A. Falkin[burg] [illegible] and one or two sloops. Above [illegible] the [illegible] Lord Ellsworth and [illegible] small crafts, hugged the piles.

[illegible]—Henry Foss, Charles H. [illegible] and Thos. C. Duffy, respectively natives of Don[illegible], were admitted to citizenship [illegible] on Saturday last. These gentlemen had [illegible] in the U. S. Army, and thus [illegible] in 1862, they earned in the [illegible] of the [illegible] citizen.

[illegible] among the lost by the Brother Jonathan, [illegible] are many [illegible] "Crazy Jennings," the [illegible] of the coast from San [illegible] one of the victims. He had arrived [illegible] a few days previous, and was en route to [illegible].

[illegible]—[illegible] and Sally, the contestant [illegible] Park on Saturday, have been [illegible] of $600, to go two mile heats in harness [illegible] the rules of the course, on Saturday next. This [illegible] will be more interesting than was that of last [illegible] as it will give the horses a fine opportunity to show the metal of their composition. They are well [illegible] we venture to say, even in two mile heats.

POLICE COURT.—In Recorder's Court yesterday Putnam [illegible] was fined $50 and costs for disturbing the peace on [illegible] by firing a gun into Front street from an open [illegible] in Cree's building. He paid the fine and [illegible] Madam Thayer paid a fine of $[illegible] and costs for drunk [illegible] costs for fast riding. Wm. H. Hill was arrested for fast driving.

"C. O. D."—The New Hampshire [illegible] recently decided that an express [illegible] delivering a parcel marked with the cabalistic [illegible] to collect on delivery—may allow the person to whom [illegible] time to open the package and determine whether he will receive it [illegible].

Boise and Owyhee

FROM [illegible] CORRESPONDENT

IDAHO CITY, Aug. [illegible], 1865.

INDIAN TROUBLES—AND [illegible] TRAVEL TO [illegible]

I have [illegible] Beachy, who informs me that he [illegible] stage running on the Humboldt route [illegible] M. Dermot [illegible] Idaho is the military post [illegible] one permanent post in Quinn's Valley, another to be at or near the Owyhee, and more stations as needed on the road. [illegible] arrived [illegible] from Humboldt, having had quite an experience of Indian fighting, but you have no doubt seen and published his experience. He says the road is now perfectly safe and will prove [illegible] for travel, but I am inclined to think the military will have their hands full [illegible] especially as the [illegible] telegram [illegible] ing an [illegible] fighting which happened have taken place at or near Queen's river [illegible] Beachy is going out to review the road and stock [illegible] is safe as represented. He tells me he [illegible] short [illegible] Sacramento as from here to Red Bluff [illegible] and by nature much better adapted to travel, two hundred miles of it being level plain. It is a great satisfaction to the people of Idaho to have their routes protected and certainly that protection is fully due them. We of Oregon can [illegible] trade and travel [illegible] advantage and do not need the aid of wild savages to drive business to us. [illegible] route will be a good [illegible] for a stage line if only patronized by the people of Nevada and used as a means of [illegible] the natural travel between that State and this Territory. Ben [illegible] is an excellent and enterprising man, whose [illegible] have been considerable [illegible].

THE LATE MURDER.

The Grand Jury empanneled lately at Idaho City, have been discharged without finding a bill of indictment against Patterson for the murder of Pinkham. I understand that eleven were for indictment and four against it, twelve being required to bring in a bill. The circumstances of the affray throw upon Patterson the blame of having been abusive and insulting, and finally of commencing the assault. No one pretends to say that Pinkham commenced the affray or sought any quarrel. The facts as I have them from an eye witness are that Patterson came up on the porch, called on Pinkham to draw, and shot him before he had time to defend himself. In view of these facts, the Grand Jury cannot find a bill, which leaves the unpleasant inference that life is unsafe in this Territory, and that Patterson is almost licensed by the dominant faction to kill and slay. I am not anxious to mix myself up with politics or to court ill will in any quarter, but as a stranger I feel thankful that I reside elsewhere, and am impressed by the unhealthy state of things existing where partisan feeling justifies murder and protects such a criminal as Patterson. I have never supposed that a jury could be got to convict him, but I [illegible] that I did think a Grand Jury could be induced to consent that he should stand a trial. No doubt a good proportion of the eleven of the Grand Jury who favored the indictment were Democrats, for to be a Democrat is not as a consequence to favor murder, but the leaders of the party, so far as I am aware, declare that Patterson is innocent of crime, and justify the act. I understand from Judge McBride, that he will immediately call another Grand Jury.

QUARTZ MINING IN BOISE BASIN.

I learn from Henry Ellsworth, Esq., that the mills on the head waters of Grimes' Creek some six to ten miles above Hog'em are steadily at work with good returns. The Elkhorn Company had got well to work, and though they had not cleaned up everything looked favorable. Several other ledges near Centreville had been tested with favorable results. Sales had been lately made in New York of valuable quartz interests at good prices. The future wealth and prosperity of the Basin undoubtedly depends upon success in quartz mining, and though many ledges may prove worthless, there will be many more that will pay when well developed. It is, as a general thing, only large companies that can successfully operate in quartz as the proper development of mines requires a great use of capital to insure success. The Fourth of July ledge near Idaho, which shows principally silver, has been sold in New York at a handsome figure and other ledges will soon pass into the hands of the Eastern capitalists where their chance of development will be better than if held by the needy prospectors who have the requisite energy to find mines, they have no capital to develope.

I had hoped to visit Bannock District which is about thirty five miles north east of Idaho City, for a week to find an opportunity to do so. I saw several specimens of quartz from different ledges there, which were remarkably rich in silver as well as possessing gold, but did not succeed in visiting the region that produced them. Having an engagement with a friend to return to Boise City and accompany him on a tour through Volcano District to Rocky Bar and Yuba I shall to-morrow leave here for South Boise.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Times seem to be dull every where upon this coast and throughout Idaho, they are very different from what was expected. The fire was a common calamity that has been severely felt every where, as by requiring all the available means to rebuild and recruit, it has locked up capital that might have been used in the advertisement of the outlying quartz districts. It is astonishing how energetically the people are rebuilding the place, though I much incline to think that the many now rebuilding will regret doing so, as it will be wonderful if the business of Idaho City will so continue as to require a town as large as they are now rebuilding. All the other mining towns in the territory wear a Sunday look on week days, with a tendency to business on the Sabbath. The prospect for business, trade and profit, is better for next year than it has been for this. Several unfortunate circumstances conspire to keep times dull now. The creek diggings are now well opened, and in many instances are paying well, most of the gulch and bar mining being now stopped for want of water.

Judge McBride arrived a few days since, and has entered upon the discharge of his official duties. He looks with confidence to the future of Idaho, believing that the coming years will add to its greatness and develop immense wealth.

Discoveries are being continually made of promising quartz districts, showing more or less of gold and silver, and to judge by appearances Idaho must in a few years become one of our best mineral regions, proved so by product and mint returns.

The Flag says the Copperheads are much elated at the news of the depredations of the Shenandoah. When the rubber crew are caught and hung we shall no doubt hear the usual Copperhead harangues about "martyrs" and "judicial murder."

IN MEMORIAM.—At a special meeting of the Portland Turn Verein, held on the 13th inst., the following was adopted:

Sorrow sears the heart of mor[tals]. [illegible] death hast [illegible] from our midst one wh[om] we [illegible] is the more keenly felt, because in him a link to the chain of our Brotherhood is broken. The Turner [illegible] in an untimely death in the wreck of the steamer Brother Jonathan, on the 30th of July, 1865.

We deeply regret the fate of our brother.

Therefore, be it Resolved, That in the [illegible] we have lost one who [illegible] by his steady and untiring interest in the welfare of our Association, and by his social [illegible] has endeared himself to all who knew him.

And be it further Resolved, That his memory shall be ever fresh in the minds of his acquaintances.

That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Verein, and published in the DAILY OREGONIAN, and that a copy of the same be tendered to the relatives of the deceased.

The course of Nature's inevitable laws fixes the aim and end of life. Appreciating this truth, may the [illegible] and mourners find that a [illegible] and [illegible].

The Monroe Doctrine

Mr. John Bright's organ, the Manchester [illegible] [illegible] that the [illegible] of which may be regarded as [illegible] the French [illegible] [illegible] most important and [illegible] estimate [illegible] Mexico.

The sudden [illegible] of the American war has warned the Emperor Maximilian of the necessity [illegible] his [illegible]. He has not taken the [illegible] [illegible] movement [illegible] [illegible] of which might [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] New York, but if report [illegible] [illegible] located in the American [illegible] [illegible] suppressed so far, may spring up again [illegible] with all the stronger [illegible]. The downfall of the Confederacy has inspired [illegible] with fresh hopes, while partisans are exerting themselves in the Northern Provinces of Mexico, where they have lately had some success. The defeat of Maximilian's Belgic allies at [illegible] has spread a painful impression among our neighbors. It is clear that if the new imperial throne is to be maintained, fresh levies must be raised in Europe, while Marshal Bazaine and the French army cannot be allowed to leave just yet. Meanwhile the Mexican question is one which exposes us to some danger. If the United States Government should show a disposition to enforce the Monroe Doctrine, we shall hear again of the arrogance and insolence which characterize its [illegible] and as we have, unfortunately, an unsettled misunderstanding with the United States on the Alabama claims, it is just within the range of possibility that circumstances may arise in which an attempt would be made to reconstitute the Anglo-French alliance [illegible] to make it avail [illegible] [illegible] Atlantic [illegible] [illegible] a project would be [illegible] not made to [illegible] our [illegible] [illegible] to the chance of having it put before us as a sound piece of statesmanship. Earl Russell has said some judicious things during the last four years, and not the least judicious was his intimation that Great Britain and France were agreed in the points to be pursued on both sides of the Atlantic. The Emperor Napoleon has tried hard to inveigle us into the pitfall of [illegible] [illegible] on American affairs and the time may come when our active support will seem to afford him the last hope of escaping without dishonor and damage from his Mexican adventure. Against this peril our best safeguard is that the people should be well informed upon the facts and the principles which relate to the Mexican question. At the threshold of this question lies the Monroe Doctrine, respecting which the prevalent views are somewhat hazy. In the course of years that doctrine has become an article of faith with the American people. The New York papers invoke it rather wildly in support of all sorts of pretensions, but, as understood by the Government and by all who pretend to any political influence, it has not changed from what it was declared to be by the authority whose name it bears. The Monroe Doctrine is the doctrine of non-intervention as defined by Mr. J. S. Mill, but instead of applying it to all the world, as Mr. Mill thinks we ought to do, the Americans confine its application to America. On the platform of that doctrine the Americans declare that if an European power shall interfere in the concerns of any people on the American continent, "for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny," such act of interference will be regarded as "unfriendly toward the United States. There can be no question as to the soundness of this doctrine, and none at all as to its falling within the proper competence of the United States Government. When one nation chooses to interfere by force of arms in the concerns of another people, any third nation has a right to step in and say, "We won't permit it." They have not the duty but the right to do this if they please. And if ever an occasion arose when this right might be most rightfully exercised, it was when the Emperor of the French determined to put down the republican form of government in Mexico, and set up an empire in its stead, when he determined to drive Benito Juarez, the freely elected President of Mexico, from power, to turn the Presidential chair into a throne and to fill that throne with an imperial underling from Europe. Great Britain and Spain joined the Emperor in an armed demonstration against Mexico, but it was for a single and honest object. The Government of Mexico had seen fit to suspend all payments to the national creditors, many of them British and French subjects, and we went to exact payment. As soon as we discovered that the Emperor of the French meant to conquer the country, and change the form of government, we threw up our share in the enterprise, and left him to himself. Spain did the same. The Emperor's conduct amounted to a shameful breach of faith toward this country, and if we had thought fit to declare war against him on behalf of Mexico—in other words, to intervene to put down intervention, however inexpedient such a policy might have been—it would not have been wrong. Our interests did not require this, and therefore we simply showed our disapproval by washing our hands of the whole business. The Emperor's conduct in Mexico was utterly unscrupulous and immoral. It was one of those high handed deeds of power which sometimes recoil upon the actors. The American war was raging. The South bade fair to achieve its independence. The Emperor probably thought that we might be induced to join him in recognizing its independence. The United States seemed utterly powerless to resent the insult or redress the wrong. The Emperor was mistaken. His sagacity was at fault. His ambition and faithlessness were not to pass unpunished, and he is now trembling with apprehension. We knew nothing of the intentions of the United States Government. All we want to impress upon the mind of the public is that the Emperor is alone responsible for the great crime which has been done in Mexico, and that, come what may, we should only be sanctioning that crime if we took any steps to save him from its consequences.

Scheme of a French Protectorate.—A statement is published on the authority of a person who had facilities for knowing what was going on at the capital of the late Confederacy, during the rebellion, to the effect that after the return of Alexander H. Stephens and others, who went as Peace Commissioners to Hampton Roads, the rebel Congress, in secret session, seriously discussed a motion to send emissaries to France with a proposal to the Emperor to establish a protectorate over the Confederacy, with the condition of his assisting the rebels to gain their independence. It was even proposed that the whole South should transfer its allegiance directly to the French crown, if necessary, in order to accomplish the design of a complete separation from the North. The proposition was supported by many leading men, while others avowed their preference for a return to their relations with the North. On the same authority it is stated that it was never the intention of the Davis Government to put any negro troops in the field. The adoption of that measure by the rebel Congress was a bait thrown out to secure foreign recognition. They hoped to deceive foreign powers with a show of emancipation, and so they passed the act which provided for the manumission of a comparatively small number, while the greater portion of the slaves were retained in bondage.

Virginia—It Must be Settled Anew.—The universal gray clothing wearies the sight and its proximity at all times is unpleasantly suggestive. The cars are filled with Confederate soldiers, many of whom have just been discharged from the prisons at the North, or hospitals in this State. Their condition is horrible and pitiable. They are without money and are furnished with transportation and rations by the Government till they reach home. A more wretched and ignorant set of mortals cannot be found on this continent. Their habits and appearance betray a woful demoralization. They are all, however, glad to get home—glad the war is over. Among them were several North Carolina deserters who had been working in Ohio and Indiana, and who confessed that they had learned to love the North and its people in their stay. The great need of Virginia at this time is to be re-peopled. The present generation are quite unequal to the task before them. Few of them have learned to labor and are far behind the age in every essential of civilization. There are thousands of acres of beautiful land here for sale.

Rumors in Washington.—It has for some time been asserted that Secretaries Seward and Stanton were intending shortly to resign. Some of the New York papers of July 4th have the following statements on this subject:

"The Sunday Mercury publishes a Washington despatch that Secretary Stanton will leave the Cabinet on the 10th [illegible], mentioning Preston King as his probable successor, which would make it unnecessary for Seward to retire.

The Tribune takes occasion to say that Secretary Seward long since notified President Johnson of his wish to be relieved of his office, and [illegible] duties at the earliest day consistent with the demands of the public service.

A writer in the London News, who acted upon the advice of an "able international lawyer" and invested in the Confederate cotton bonds, endeavors to comfort himself and his fellow bondholders with the assurance that the North will act with a high sense of justice towards the [illegible], and if necessary they will spread their debt out among certain States lately confederated and tax their export of cotton until every shilling of the debt is discharged." We wonder how certain States lately confederated relish the suggestion?

Citizens of Virginia.—A correspondent of the Commercial Advertiser, writing from Danville, Va., [illegible] [illegible] says:

One thing impresses itself upon the traveler as farm after farm is passed, and that is that the whites of the State are not at work. In the whole trip through the State, from Norfolk to Richmond, and thence to [illegible] to Petersburg, and back from Richmond again to Danville, not a single white man was seen at work on any of the plantations passed, even where the crops were actually suffering from want of care. Yet the places of public resort, the stations, Post Offices and hotels were filled with white loafers.

Danville, before the war, contained about three thousand inhabitants and was a town of considerable business and manufacturing importance. It was, at the opening of the war, the terminus of the railroad from Richmond, but the importance of an unbroken line of rail of communication which should [illegible] comparatively safe from our raids induced the Confederate Government to construct the road which now connects it with Greensboro. It became on the opening of this road one of the most important depots of supplies in the country, with extensive quartermaster and commissary buildings attached. A large car factory was in operation, and several woolen factories. Several large [illegible] were established in the place and in it the principal starving pens for Union prisoners. The lower part of the town is as [illegible] and shabby as the most fastidious antiquary could desire of a country as old as our own, while a single street winding over the hill above shows hardly a place enough to save the town respectably for the place as a whole.

The people seem bitter, and are principally engaged in grumbling at the new order of things [illegible] upon them by the North. The belief is by no means general here that slavery is dead, and a hope that in some unknown way they will yet control the slaves is in many minds, amounting with some to conviction. They look for its restoration through State action, not yet comprehending that the doctrine of State sovereignty has been somewhat shattered by the war. Here, as in Richmond, the people instead of grappling with the fact that the war had liberated the slaves are very busy proving the utter worthlessness of the negroes and treating them with all indignities and contempt, neither offering them fair inducements to work or working themselves. The county meetings that appear so well when dressed up for the Richmond political market, in which the earnest desire to cooperate heartily with the Government in the changed order of affairs is made to appear in such bright colors, represent the plottings of political schemers, and not the ideas of the masses in Virginia.

The whole condition of affairs are deplorable enough, and it is only when it is considered as a righteous punishment for the crime of rebellion that the spectacle of social ruin can be regarded without sadness.

The loss of life in this region during the war may be judged by the fact that of twelve hundred and sixty three men who made up the Eleventh North Carolina regiment of volunteers raised in and around Danville, only forty seven are known to be alive.

The Government has been issuing rations to the needy since the occupation of the place, but the imposition practiced by many abundantly able to help themselves, have caused the authorities to exercise great care to prevent this extensive swindling.

A Death at College.—On the morning of class day the sophomore class buried one of their number, who literally died from the want of the necessaries of life, and that too, right here at Harvard College. Only a year ago fresh from a farm only seventeen miles from Buffalo, (N. Y.), a raw, green, lad of twenty two, applied for admission to the sophomore class. His awkward manner and uncouth bearing, won for him the name of "Greeny." A few days ago he was missed from recitation, and was up in a little room by twenty attic room of a rickety old boarding house. Somebody said he was dying of typhoid fever. Ex-President Peabody, the good Samaritan of Harvard, heard of his distress, and repairing to his room found the poor boy in the arms of death. For a year had his only food been bread and water, and sometimes a little milk, and often one meal a day, sufficed. His room was small and poorly ventilated, and by the feeble light of an old lamp had the poor fellow worked eighteen out of twenty four hours each day. These facts quickly coming out, everything that could be done was done. His last hours were made as comfortable as a sympathizing and conscience-stricken neighborhood could make them. His broken hearted mother came to carry her son's body home, and she must have been overjoyed to learn what would only a little before given her son so much happiness to have known, that he was the first scholar in his class, and to receive the first scholarship which yields a very little income of $300 per year. But it was too late. his pride would never allow him to complain. his ambition continually spurred him on. We recollect him passing every day, he never looked up, we all can recall his hurried walk, his sad countenance, his pale lamp always feebly twinkling at midnight, his running around the corner with a loaf of bread under his arm, his going out in the severest storms without umbrella or overcoat. But it is all over now.

What Canadian Reciprocity Exhibits.—Commissioner Newton, in the last report of the Agricultural Department, publishes tables of the exports and imports of Canada for the years 1862 and 1863 and six months of 1864, showing that in the aggregate the value of goods, &c., enumerated in the Reciprocity treaty, being the growth and produce of the United States, and exported into Canada amounted in 1862 to $11,430,621, in 1863 to $12,889,307; and for six months in 1864 to $1,875,610. Our imports from Canada during the year 1863 and six months of 1864 amounted to $25,473,158—a balance against the United States of $7,258,161. Mr. Newton further remarks that, "as regards agriculture, it appears that of its products we exported to Canada in 1861 about $10,555,783, and imported $12,737,599, being a balance against our agriculture of $2,181,756. If there were any compensation for this loss in other parts of the trade, as in manufactures made from the raw material of our farming, the objection would be weakened; but the entire amount of manufactured articles exported to Canada is too insignificant to be regarded for any purpose."

Ben. Wood's Case.—The New York Citizen of a late date has the following about this notorious disloyalist and his recent transactions with rebel murderers in Canada.

We learn the proceedings will next week be commenced by our Government, through the Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, United States District Attorney, for the recovery from Benjamin Wood, of this city, of the sum of twenty five thousand dollars, the property of the late Confederate government, transmitted through our lines via Canada, late Canadian agent of the rebel authorities, and the receipt of which by Wood has recently been proved by his signature on the back of the check, the Hon. A. D. Russell, City Judge, and George Walkes, of the Spirit of the Times, being witnesses to his hand writing. It is clear that all property of the rebel authorities coming within reach of our Government is liable to confiscation, and the best legal opinions have confirmed the judgement of the Secretaries of War and the Treasury on which this action has been ordered.

Who Burned the Cotton and Tobacco in Richmond?—The discovery very recently in Richmond of a rebel War Department despatch tends to confirm the statements heretofore made, to the effect that Robert E. Lee, recently commander of the rebel army of Northern Virginia, is the person really responsible for the burning of cotton and tobacco in Richmond and setting fire to that city at the time of the rebel hegira. It also shows that the evacuation was contemplated at least six weeks before it took place. The dispatch which is dated February 22 is from General Breckinridge, then rebel Secretary of War, to Gen. Ewell and advises Ewell to see Gen. Lee for the purpose of receiving definite instructions regarding the latter's order for the burning of cotton, tobacco, etc.

[illegible]—The papers have been asserting that Captain DeWolf, of the Brother Jonathan, was an officer of the Lexington which was burned in Long Island Sound January 13th, 1840, and that he escaped on a bale of cotton. The same statement was made from the pulpit of the First Baptist Church Sunday. We have before us a list of the names of all the persons who were on board the Lexington at the time she was lost. D. W. F's name is not among them. Only four persons were saved from that vessel, one of these Crowley, the second mate, floated ashore on a bale of cotton. One hundred and eighteen lives were lost.—S. F. Call.

Montana.—This new Territory, including the Rocky Mountains (next north latitude 44°, and the valleys of the Yellowstone, Upper Missouri and Bow rivers, is estimated now to contain at least fifty thousand inhabitants, though it only began to be settled three years ago. Its official capital is Virginia City, on the Jefferson fork of the Upper Missouri; its Governor the Hon. Sydney Edgerton, formerly a member of Congress from Ohio and subsequently Chief Justice of Idaho Territory. The prospect is, that in a few years Montana will be seeking admission as a state.

Gail Hamilton says one can be daughter, sister, friend, but it is a dreadful indorsement of a man to marry him.

A boy whose honesty is more to be commended than his ingenuity, lately carried some butter to a merchant in a country village to exchange for goods. The butter having a very beautiful appearance and the merchant being desirous of procuring such for [illegible] [illegible] invited him to bring him all the butter he [illegible] [illegible] to part. "CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS.

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the Procreative Functions. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD, heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, [illegible] and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of [illegible] are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Comb Place; Pall; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road, Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris; who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patents, letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.
